

Honors Project

Spring 17

1. The paper should be at least 10-12 pages in length, including a title page, diagrams, tables and references. It must be typed double spaced, 12 font and should include header and footer and follow APA or MLA guidelines.

You should write enough to examine your topic thoroughly, but be concise at the same time.

In drafting your synopsis, try to answer the following questions:

2. Objective: What is the point of the paper? What question are you trying to answer?

3. Methodology: How will you go about answering the question or explaining a phenomenon? Will you use a narrative, or quantitative analysis?

4. Resources: How do you plan to get information?

The following elements should be addressed in your paper:

5. Paper should be clearly divided (with section headings) into the following sections:

Title Page: Include title, name and date.

Introduction: This section should explain why the topic is important and include a brief summary.

Microeconomic or macroeconomic analysis: This section contains your microeconomic or macroeconomic analysis of the topic.

Conclusion: This section should contain a brief summary of the topic and your analysis, plus any discussion or comments that you may have on the topic.

References: At the end, cite all sources used in your analysis including the source of your article, any economic textbook you may have consulted, and any internet sources)

6. For all the dates listed below see me before or after class or during office hours.

Preliminary meeting: Week of 1/23, 1/30 or 2/6

Rough draft: Week of 3/6

Draft Review: Week of 4/10 or 4/7

Final Review: Week of 5/1

Final submission: Week of 5/1, Please submit two hard copies of a half page report describing what you learned as part of your research. Your report must include header including your name, title of the paper.

Please submit one hard copy of the final paper. Your paper must include a title page including your name, title of the paper.